III. DISCUSSION

The subject property is an improved residential parcel in Douglas County Nebraska. The improvement on the subject property is a 2,262 square foot 1½ story residence built in 1961. (E3:4). The residence has a partially finished basement and an attached garage. (E3:4). The Taxpayer's contention is that taxable value of the subject property was not equalized by the County Board with the taxable values of other comparable properties in his neighborhood. Specifically, the Taxpayer contends that the County Board should have adopted the recommendation of its referee. The equalized value recommended by the referee was $380,000.00. (1:3). Justification for the referee's recommendation is stated in Exhibit 1 at page 4. The referee's justification contains information concerning three sales. (E1:4). Information contained in Exhibit 4 at page 1 shows that two of the three properties were assessed for the tax year 2005 at values substantially equivalent to their sales prices in the years 2003 or 2004. Equalization is the process of comparing the ratio of taxable value to actual value for the subject property with the ratio of taxable value to actual value for comparable properties. Cabela's Inc.

v. Cheyenne County Bd. of Equalization, 8 Neb.App. 582, 597 N.W.2d 623, (1999). The ratios of assessment to actual value as indicated by sales for the three properties is near 100%. There is no evidence that the subject property is taxed at more than 100% of its actual or fair market value. The decision of the County Board should be affirmed.
